Classroom and Group Mindsets & Behaviors Action Plan

The ASCA Student Standards: Mindsets & Behaviors for Student Success guide the planning and delivery of all student activities and interventions. The classroom and group Mindsets & Behaviors action plan provides an overview of the delivery of direct services in large group (LG), classroom (class) and small-group (SG) settings. This plan presents the topics addressed, while the annual calendar presents the schedule of all classroom and groups activities.

Use the classroom and group Mindsets & Behaviors action plan to identify all ASCA Student Standards addressed through classroom and group activities. Although some activities address multiple standards, list the activity with the primary mindset or behavior addressed by the activity. It is not necessary to repeat activities with all standards addressed through that activity.

Operationalize the ASCA Student Standards

1. Identify need.
2. Collect supplemental data.
3. Select student standard.
4. Write learning objectives aligned with student standard.
5. Create pre/post assessment.
6. Select or develop strategies.
7. Administer pre-test.
8. Deliver selected or designed strategies.
9. Administer post-test.
10. Reflect for improvement of practice.

Implementing the ASCA Student Standards

School counselors use the ASCA Student Standards to guide the development, delivery and assessment of the three direct student services as defined by the ASCA National Model: instruction, appraisal and advisement, and counseling. The standards help school counselors determine what student knowledge, attitudes and skills will be measured as they work to help all students become college-, career- and life-ready.

School counselors deliver the ASCA Student Standards to all pre-K-12 students in classrooms, groups or individual settings in a manner that is appropriate for the students' development level/age. School counselors review achievement, attendance and discipline data to guide the selection of specific mindsets and behaviors appropriate for the individual, group or grade level, as well learning objectives to operationalize the standards.

School counselors implement the ASCA Student Standards through the following steps.

1. Identify need.

School counselors identify a specific student challenge found in the school's student outcomes (achievement, attendance, discipline). Challenges could include:

- underperformance in achievement (standardized test scores, grades, credits earned)
- overrepresentation in discipline (offense categories, consequences)
- higher absenteeism (absences, late arrivals, early departures, chronically absent)

Specific developmental stages or differences may also serve as the basis for school counselor interventions. If the issue is related to underlying systemic issues, the school counselor advocates to change policies, guidelines and practices to address the systemic issues.

2. Collect supplemental data.

School counselors collect supplemental data, soliciting opinions, beliefs and insights from stakeholders who are directly involved with students experiencing the identified challenge. These stakeholders include but are not limited to parents, teachers, administrators and students.

3. Select student standard.

School counselors select a specific mindset or behavior that best aligns with the data and the factors suggested in the supplemental data.

4. Write learning objectives aligned with the student standard.

School counselors operationalize the selected mindset or behavior by selecting or writing a measurable student learning objective(s) that will help students attain the standard. The learning objective(s) identify the specific knowledge and/or skills students need to attain that stated standard.

5. Create pre/post assessment.

School counselors create a pre-/post-assessment based on the student learning objectives and selected student standard.

6. Select or develop strategies.

School counselors select or develop strategies, activities and/or interventions that facilitate attainment of the learning objectives.

7. Administer pre-test.

School counselors administer the pre-test to determine the baseline knowledge and skills of targeted students.

8. Deliver selected or designed strategies.

School counselors deliver the strategies, activities and/or interventions to targeted students.

9. Administer post-test.

School counselors administer the post-test, assessing the students' acquisition of the knowledge and skills.

10. Reflect for improvement of practice.

School counselors reflect on the process, identifying what might be improved when next delivered.

School counselors use the ASCA Student Standards to ensure equity and improve access for all students. While the standards are based on a review of research and other college-, career- and life-readiness documents that identify strategies influencing student achievement and academic performance, learning happens within the context of the school environment. Students learn best in environments that are accepting, respectful, supportive and inclusive, and students cannot attain these standards in an inequitable environment.

As part of the implementation of a school counseling program based on the ASCA National Model, school counselors shape ethical, equitable and inclusive school environments that help all students achieve and succeed. School counselors have an ethical responsibility to provide curriculum and activities that ensure equitable academic, career and social/emotional development opportunities for all students.

Implementing the ASCA Student Standards through the lens of equity and access is essential to improving outcomes for all students. Without careful and thoughtful implementation, standards such as these can reinforce the status quo, including gaps in achievement, opportunity and attainment, and disproportionate rates of discipline and suspension for students of color. School counselors are aware that factors such as educators' beliefs, mindsets and behaviors can also perpetuate inequitable learning environments. The ASCA Student Standards should be used to promote equity and access for all students and create a school culture free of bias and oppression.

Operationalize the ASCA Student Standards

- Define specific knowledge and skills
- Deliver instruction, appraisal/advisement, counseling activities grounded in defined knowledge and skills
- Assess students' acquisition of stated knowledge and skills
- Connect added knowledge and skills to student outcomes

Selecting a Student Standard

Based on Need:

- Reflect on professional knowledge

- Look at the data

Based on Students:

- Unique constellation
- Incorporate what you know
